gearing up for the National Cycling
Championships

National Cycling Championships

British Cycling are bringing this year's British National Road Championships to Redcar and Cleveland, with races being held in both Redcar and Saltburn.

Circuit Race

June 23, 4pm FREE

Esplanade, Redcar

The circuit race is a tight and technical 1km circuit around the town with riders starting on the Esplanade before heading down the High Street. Both the men's and women's races will be contested over 55 minutes plus five laps. Women's race 6.30pm - 7.30pm closely followed by the men's race 8 - 9pm

Road Race

June 25, 9am FREE

Saltburn

The road race concludes the championships and will challenge the riders with its steep gradient and tight hairpin bends separating the best from the rest. Each lap will start by heading into the villages of East Cleveland, passing the historic Skelton Castle, before heading through the old mining sites in Kilton. Riders will then drop back down to the coast before firing up Saltburn Bank to the finish line.

A fun-filled programme of entertainment and activities will run alongside both the races for all the family to enjoy.

Much Ado About Nothing

July 7, 7:30pm, £13 - £16

Kirkleatham Museum and Grounds

Award-winning Oddsocks Productions bring Shakespeare's romantic romp "Much Ado About Nothing" to life in their own inimitable, hilarious, and irreverent style for the summer of 2023! Drama and deception mixes with sun, songs, and silliness to create a theatre event you won't forget.

Make and Mend Festival

July 16, 10am - 6pm, earlybird £35

Ormesby Hall, Ormesby

The festival features a curated list of pre-bookable workshops delivered by artists at the top of their craft game, demos from artists sharing their practice and process, creative taster drop ins, a Maker's Market offering a range of thoughtfully curated craft kits and handmade gifts from indie businesses and well-being activities.
